Product description

The front bumper for the Porsche Panamera model 976, specially developed for the Turbo version, is a prime example of the high quality and functionality you can expect from Porsche original parts. With the OEM number 976898010A, this bumper guarantees a perfect fit and is specially designed for your vehicle.

A special feature of this bumper is the integrated parking aid. The sensors are seamlessly integrated into the bumper and provide acoustic and visual assistance when parking. This makes it easier to manoeuvre in tight parking spaces and helps to avoid parking damage. The bumper is new, unused and undamaged, keeping it in perfect condition.

This part is manufactured under strict Porsche quality controls to ensure that the durability and perfect fit expected of an original part are guaranteed. Fitting this bumper not only preserves the visual appearance of your Porsche Panamera, but also improves its functionality with the additional parking aid.

This product is ideal for owners of a Porsche Panamera model 976 who value authenticity and maintaining the value of their vehicle by using original parts. For optimal integration and function, it is recommended that installation be carried out by a specialist.
