Product description

These high-quality sports seats for the Porsche Panamera model 971 are the ideal choice for drivers who value both comfort and sporty design. Made from a sophisticated combination of leather and Alcantara in black, these seats give your vehicle an exclusive and luxurious look. They are electrically adjustable and allow optimal positioning for the driver and front passenger, ensuring optimum comfort on long journeys and when driving sportily.

The set includes both the left and right seats, ensuring a uniform and attractive look in the vehicle interior. These seats are specially designed for the GTS version of the Porsche Panamera, making them a perfect match for the sporty characteristics of this model. The OEM number 971881805EHGDBKPL confirms their authenticity and high quality as original Porsche parts.

Despite their used condition, the seats are in very good condition and show only minimal signs of wear or storage. They are therefore an excellent option for upgrading or replacing the interior of your Porsche Panamera. In summary, these sports seats offer a perfect combination of functionality, comfort and stylish design, specially tailored to the needs of Porsche Panamera drivers.
